

JUST SAY JESUS

By Steve A. Green

When trouble and heartaches have darkened your eyes
Everything is going wrong and nothing seems right
And Satan's convinced you, you've lost this long hard fight
There's just one name you have to say and He'll make everything alright

Just say Jesus, He'll help you again
Just say Jesus, He'll come charging right on in
He'll come riding in on His white horse and He'll take over your fight
Just say Jesus and He'll make everything alright

When sickness has dimmed your prayerful light
The doctors have told you there's no solution in sight
Just remember He's the healer, the giver of life
Just call on His name, and He'll make everything alright

Repeat chorus

Tag:

He'll come riding in on His white horse and He'll take over your fight
Just say Jesus
Just say Jesus
Just say Jesus, and He'll make everything alright
